. EC Children's Day

by Rama, Engineering Association

If we are building a city, then it must be for many generations.

. Goals of the Children's Day

We had set the following four main goals:

1. Introducing the children to their parents' workplace – seeing the productive work of their parents,
2. Introducing the children to the Engineering City – making the city their city,
3. Introducing the children to Engineering – getting excited with engineering,
4. Introducing the children and their parents to each other – building friendships with each other.

. Organizational Committee

The Children's Day is one of the projects that turns the EC into a community. This is because the organization committee consisted of individuals from different EC organizations, the execution was carried out by many more, and the participation was by all.
